Q. 1 Can you tell us about your study routine and time management strategies that helped you achieve academic excellence?

A1). Instead of focusing on a stringent plan or schedule I try to focus on present day topics or targets. It depends on what subject I am lagging in and I should work on that subject.

Q.2 What motivated you to consistently perform well in your studies?

A2) Motivation never stops...there are many things I expect from myself and even the people who support me expect from me and I respect that. I don't want to dishearten anyone and not in the least disappoint myself.

Q .3How do you handle stress and pressure during exams or intense study periods?

A3). There are certain moments which are so dark that it seems impossible to get over them. But yes my teachers, my peers, and my family support me at that time so it becomes relatively easy to handle.

Q. 4 Did you face any challenges or setbacks in your academic journey, and how did you overcome them?

A4) As said by many, life is not a bed of roses. Setbacks and challenges occur every now and then. Only thing that matters is strong determination and one fact that there is nothing to lose.

Q5). What are other hobbies that keep you engaged?

A5) I have plenty of normal hobbies like painting, singing etc. But my intense interest goes in knowing mechanical things. Since my childhood I found great interest in working of even simple machines like wrist watches for instance.

Q. 6 How do you balance academics with extracurricular activities and personal interests?

A6) I love participating in different activities that my school heartily organizes. They are a part of growing many humane qualities like team spirit, and speaking skills, and also good for relieving stress. Balancing them becomes easy when they become a part of your interest.

Q7 ). Do you think respect is commanded or demanded?

A7)Decidedly respect is not demanded. It has to be commanded by one's deeds. As is often said, "Actions speak louder than words", hence in any post or responsibility one must do their job wholeheartedly and consequently get the deserving respect naturally.

Q8 ). Did you have any role models or mentors who inspired and guided you throughout your academic journey?

A8) As such I can't give credit to just one person. Every time I meet someone I find something or other in them that inspires me. All the teachers have taught me something or other, my friends have guided me throughout during the darkest times and even acquaintances I meet now and then behold the talent to be my role model in some or other field.

Q.9 Can you share any advice or tips for students aspiring to excel academically?

A9) Any tip can't be personalized for anyone as a unique personality belongs to everyone. But on a generalized note I would just say that if you want to get something, not just academically, try your best to do it.

Q. 10 What is future aspiration?

A10) As of now I plan to be an IITian and pursue computer sciences.
